

East Surrey Family History Society

e-newsletter No 12 December 2013

WELCOME to the December edition of the e-newsletter and Best Wishes from everyone in the Society for a

MERRY XMAS, and a
HAPPY, JOYFUL and SUCCESSFUL (FAMILY HISTORY) NEW YEAR!

It's traditionally a time to get together with family members, so don't forget to take pencil and paper to note down any valuable snippets of family history! Take photos, make drawings and collect memories and signatures! So a very busy time for all and I do wish you all good health and safe journeys!

Don't forget to renew your subscription for East Surrey Family History Society!! This falls due on 1st January 2014!

If you need any help or need to revise your physical or email address, or any other details please contact the Membership Secretary at membership01@eastsurreyfhs.org.uk. We have just been able to maintain the subscriptions for another year at £12 so no need to amend existing payment instructions but if you don't have a standing order, and are not covered by one of the overseas arrangements, you can renew using either the GENFAIR website <http://www.genfair.co.uk/search.php?search=east+surrey+membership&Submit=Search> or you can download and complete the application form from the East Surrey Family History Society web site. See http://www.eastsurreyfhs.org.uk/m_ship.htm (that's m_(underscore)ship.htm)

Please tell your friends about the Society and encourage them to join us too. We always look forward to greeting and helping new members.

ESFHS UPDATE

December is a quiet month for meetings but we do have our Christmas Social as usual at Sutton on Thursday December 5th at St Nicholas's Church Hall, Robin Hood Lane, Sutton SM1 2RG. We will also be hearing the second half of John Phillips' very interesting talk on the History of the River Wandle which was cut short last month by an equipment failure. See you there!

Contributions of food and drink most welcome!

When you've bought your 2014 Diary, don't forget to enter these important dates:

Thurs Feb 20th to Sat Feb 22nd Feb 2014 – Who Do You Think You Are Show at Olympia. The ESFHS bookstall and Help Desk will be in their regular spot (stands 105 to 108). Look out for our 2015 Genealogy Conference stand next door (109).

HELP Please! We still need someone to take over the role of Honorary Secretary and on October 14th Sheila Gallagher stepped down after over 20 years fine service as Secretary to the Southwark Group. Please speak to a Committee member or Group representative at any meeting to find out more about these roles.

Group meetings are held at five venues across East Surrey. Advance notice for the meetings for January 2014:

SUTTON – Thursday January 2nd at 7.45 pm. Our President Paul Blake will speak on 'Genius in the Genes? Charles Darwin and his remarkable family'. Paul is a professional Genealogist.

RICHMOND – Saturday January 11th at 2.30pm. "The early London garden estates - a garden for all" with Martin Stilwell. The dream of the founders of the LCC was to give all workers a chance to live in a house with a garden. The four estates built before WW1 were of high quality and a financial success and paved the way for a massive building programme between the wars. Did those pioneers succeed in their dreams?

CROYDON – Tuesday 21st January 2014 at 7.45pm. Paul Blake will speak on 'A Titanic Story: the unknown child'. This is the story of the Goodwin family who lost their lives on 15 April 1912, a mystery not solved for 95 years. Paul is a professional Genealogist and is President of the ESFHS.

LINGFIELD – Wednesday January 22nd at 2.30pm – Ian Currie, local weather expert will tell us about 'Frost, Freezes and Fairs - 1000 years of winters on the frozen Thames and other rivers.' Brrrr!

SOUTHWARK – There is no Southwark meeting in January. The next meeting will be on 10th February 2014.

See the December Journal, which will be arriving soon, or click on the Group names in the Meetings page of the website www.eastsurreyfhs.org.uk for dates, address and location details.

And for a Christmas Present with a difference, don't forget the 2015 Genealogy Conference is being hosted by East Surrey Family History Society at the Beaumont Hotel in Windsor, 29-31 August 2015. You can register your interest at: 2015genealogyconference@eastsurreyfhs.org.uk

The Conference web site will be appearing in the New Year!

Another date for your brand new 2014 Diary is:

Saturday 26 April - 'Surrey – A County of History' 10am – 3pm, followed by the ESFHS AGM. Three speakers, including Julian Pooley (of Surrey History Centre) on: A Burden on the Parish: Sources for the History of Poor Relief in Surrey and Jeremy Harte (Bourne Hall Museum): At the Sign of the King's Head: Restoration Epsom. Plus our Bookstall, Help Desk and much more of interest to local and family historians. Bourne Hall, Spring Street, Ewell, Surrey, KT17 1UF

'Christmas' Names

Do you have a HOLLY or a ROBIN or a NOEL or a WENCESLAS in the family? I found this very intriguing Electoral Record on Ancestry for a property in Brixton in 1890:

Directory of Members' Name Interests (DMI)

I described how to search the ESFHS DMI database on our website in the June 2013 e-newsletter. It's a cheap and easy resource to find other people who are researching the same name, and possibly the same family, as you. Our webmaster, Brian, tells me that the following new name interests will be listed in the December Journal - BERRINGER BISH BORRER BURBERRY COPE FENNELL HAYWARD HILLS MORGAN PAGE RISBRIDGER SPICER WESTTHORP. Perhaps you have some new names for the list! Let us know!! The Members' Interests Co-ordinator is Peter Grant and his contact details are inside the front cover of the Journal.

Re-housing project at the of National Archives

We are privileged to have the National Archives in 'our' patch, at Kew. I joined the Friends of the TNA last year and this encouraged me to attend a couple of splendid study days, one on the sinking of the Titanic and the other on Railway Ancestors.

I have also recently volunteered to help with a TNA preservation project supported by the Friends concerning the early 20th century IR126 Land Valuation maps. The project comprises the rehousing of the maps and I have just been through the initial training session. I thought you might be interested to hear what working on the project involves.

We work in three-person teams, and I'm currently allocated to two days in December. We are working with the multi-drawer map chests, deep behind the scenes on level 2. We remove the maps from their drawer, where they are stored in unwieldy, wide and heavy card folders in batches of say 12-20 maps. We then carefully sort them into numerical order, lay them face down, and then place them into smaller, lighter folders, say only 5 or 6 to a folder, which we label on the cover and place back in the drawer. Any duplicate or badly damaged maps are noted for future attention from the archivists. That's it, but there are 122,000 maps so the project will be running for several months to come.

If you order a map as a Reader now you may notice that you are presented with a folder containing several maps rather than just the one map you requested. The group of maps is delivered, undisturbed, in its card folder rather than as a single map which has been pulled out from amongst the others in the drawer.

The Friends of the TNA

I asked Dr Tony Wakeford, Vice Chairman, to tell us about the Friends of The National Archives. He wrote:

'This year marks the twenty-fifth anniversary of the foundation of The Friends of The National Archives (TNA). The Friends are a charitable and voluntary organisation dedicated to supporting the role played by TNA in the preservation, conservation and utilisation of the nation's records. The Friends were set up in 1988, at the then Public Record Office, in Chancery Lane in central London, and launched at a conference celebrating 150 years of the archives. Now based at TNA in Kew, our objectives are to educate the public in the knowledge of public and other records, and to promote and assist the work of TNA.'

'We provide vital assistance to numerous projects, enabling records of all kinds to be conserved, preserved, catalogued, indexed, and made accessible. With over 160 kilometres of shelving, you can imagine the amount of work involved. We help in other ways too by funding projects, undertaking book reviews for the shop and helping with some public duties. We part-fund conferences and seminars at TNA, and provide financial support for staff at external events.'

'Indexing projects are a central part of our voluntary work. (for further details please contact the Friends). We also recently helped to organise the World War 1 diaries ready for digitalisation. We organise and host events at TNA and arrange special members' tours to venues of historical interest and importance. It is fair to say that our relationship with TNA is unique – the only government department to have a Friends organisation! The Parish exhibition at the London Metropolitan Archives (LMA)

This new exhibition focuses on life in London's many Anglican parishes which will include many parishes south of the Thames. It focusses on the parish and its interaction with the community, such as assisting the parish poor, the provision of fire engines, and the recording of baptisms, marriages and burials. The exhibition runs until 13 February 2014.

If you have any enquiries please contact a member of the London Probate team on 020 7947 6043.

Who Do You Think You Are? Magazine launches Forum App

WDYTYA Magazine has just announced the launch of this free App for your mobile phone which enables genealogy enthusiasts to use its online forum ‘on the move’. After you have registered you can pose questions to the forum including help with finding records, dating photographs etc.

The App is supplied by the Immediate Media Company Limited (known as Immediate Media Co). Wikipedia tells me this is ‘a combined publishing house, combining the former assets of Origin Publishing, Magicalia and BBC Magazines.’

Famous East Surrey resident – Mrs. Isabella Beeton, nee Mayson (1836- 1865)

On a tour of West Norwood Cemetery earlier this year (see the photos on our Facebook page), our guide who is one of the Friends of the Cemetery, pointed out the grave of Mrs. Isabella Beeton, the bestselling author of the Book of Household Management, 1861.

Isabella was the eldest in a family of 21 children, eight from earlier marriages including Isabella, herself. Step-father was Henry Dorling, clerk at the Epsom Racecourse, and Isabella lived part of her life at Stroud Green House in Croydon. She married Sam Beeton in 1856, at the age of 20, and the wedding reception was at the Epsom Racecourse grandstand. They had four children, of whom two sons tragically died very young, and they are also remembered on the gravestone. Isabella died of puerperal fever aged 39, a week after the birth of the fourth child.

In her honour, and as it's Christmas, here's her recipe for a 'Large Rich Cake':

1 lb. plain flour; $\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoon salt; 4 oz. margarine; $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon cinnamon; $\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoon mixed spice; 3 oz. sugar; $\frac{3}{4}$ oz. yeast; 3 eggs; 1 $\frac{1}{2}$ - 2 gills warm milk (1 gill = $\frac{1}{4}$ pint); 4 oz. sultanas; 4 oz. raisins; 2 oz. currants.

Sift together warmed flour and salt; rub in margarine. Add other ingredients (not fruit) to flour and mix to a light dough with yeast creamed with a little of the sugar, eggs and milk. Beat well. Put to rise to double its size, then work in fruit. Put into greased tins (two 6 inch or one 8 inch or 10 inch) and allow to prove till well up in the tin. Bake in a fairly hot oven (380-400 degrees F, Gas 5-6) for $\frac{3}{4}$ - 1 $\frac{1}{4}$ hours depending on size of loaf. When the loaf is almost ready, brush over with sugar and water glaze. Return to oven for 5 minutes. Makes 1 large or 2 small loaves. Cooking time: 50-80 minutes.

Surrey History Centre records published on Ancestry

Julian Pooley (from the SHC) summarised progress and future publication plans for Surrey records on Ancestry in the September Journal. In case you missed this and/or have plans to get down to some family history research at Christmas, I have pasted an extract below.

If you come across any transcription errors you can either:

- click on the entry in the index and add 'alternate information' which will be indexed and appear in square brackets in future search results; or,
- email a list of amendments to shs@surreycc.gov.uk marked for Julian's attention and he will forward them on to Ancestry.

News from Surrey Heritage

Julian Pooley, Surrey History Centre

A splendid new resource for family historians tracing ancestors in Surrey was launched earlier this year, when the family history website Ancestry published some 2.6 million Surrey parish records online. This first batch of records features baptisms, marriages and burials contained in Anglican parish registers held by Surrey History Centre dating from 1538 to 1987.

More parish registers from 1900 onwards will be added later, along with Land tax records 1780-1832, electoral registers 1832-1945, Brookwood Hospital admission registers 1867-1900, Holloway Sanatorium Registers, 1885-1899, Calendars of prisoners of Surrey quarter sessions and Assizes 1848-1902, freeholders lists 1696-1824, licensed victuallers registers 1785-1903, Queen's Royal West Surrey Regiment enlistment registers 1920-1946, transfers in registers 1939-1947, and World War II Honours Indexes [1939]-1946, East Surrey Regiment enlistment registers 1920-1946, and transfers in registers 1924-1946, as well as Nominal Rolls of Officers 1914-1919 of the 21st - 24th Battalions the London Regiment.

Trade Directories

Michael Holland spoke to us in Lingfield about 'old' occupations and referred us to the extensive collections of online trade directories held by the University of Leicester. This is the URL you need to find the collection and please see the screen shots below which explain that changes are taking place. Click on Historical Directories Collection to see the directories themselves. I found a Kelly's Directory for Surrey dated 1913. There is a search facility for each document.

Historical Directories

A digital collection of the trade directories of England and Wales (1766-1919)

Important: Historical Directories is changing. Please read on to find out more or continue to the test version of the new Historical Directories Collection, part of our Special Collections Online. The previous version of www.historicaldirectories.org will remain available for a limited period.

Update, 5 September 2013: We are aware of some issues with searching on the new system and are working to resolve these. Feedback on the new service is welcomed, and can be sent to specialcollections@le.ac.uk.

The Historical Directories website was launched in February 2003 as part of a Lottery funded project. In order to continue providing free access to this resource, we have transferred the directories onto a new website.

National Library of Scotland Online maps (Map data: Google, Imagery: copyright 2013 Terradata)

<http://maps.nls.uk/geo/explore> Click here for an adventure! Be patient, sometimes it takes a few seconds for the maps to resolve. Worth the wait!

I discovered this site courtesy the latest newsletter of the London Topographical Society and when I opened it I thought all my Christmases had come at once! It's not just superb mapping for Scotland; there are maps of Great Britain, England and Wales, Ireland and Belgium, at national and county level; London mapped at 5 inches to the mile, all at various dates and scales and loads more. All the maps are zoomable, some with under/ overlays of later date maps that you can toggle between, and they drag left/right/up/down really easily. The Scottish content is very significant with town plans at various dates, military maps, battle maps, Estate maps, coastal charts, clan charts and more. I looked up Berwick-on-Tweed (sometimes English, sometimes Scottish) and found a map that showed the owners of various parcels of land.

The site is functionally very strong. There are many search boxes and filters; you can overlay a modern map, delve through layers of maps or compare two maps side by side, and you have constantly updating X/Y co-ordinates/ Latitude and Longitude/ Map references for the cursor.

Browse by category here: <http://maps.nls.uk/browse.html>

I will demonstrate with sample images of Surrey, below.

I selected Surrey and England and Wales > OS One Inch 1892-1908 Hills. This map is georeferenced and +/- zoomable and drag-able. I selected the side by side view and selected two different maps and dates, and zoomed the view. The < > slider moves you between the two layers of maps – here I have the OS One Inch overlaid on top of Google Satellite map but I am 100% on the One Inch map.

The screenshot displays the NLS Map Images interface for exploring georeferenced maps. At the top, there's a header with the NLS logo, a 'Map images' link, and links for 'Explore georeferenced maps' and 'Find by place'. A 'Keyword search' bar is also present. Below the header, a sub-header reads 'View a selection of historic maps as overlays on a modern map base'. The main area features a map of Surrey with various locations labeled like 'SERBITON', 'Malden', and 'The Grange'. On the left, a sidebar provides filtering options: 'Find a place:', 'Gazetteer / NG Ref:', 'County: SURREY', 'Parish: SURREY', and dropdown menus for 'Select a category' (England and Wales) and 'Select a map group' (OS One-Inch, 1892-1908 - Hills). A red circle highlights the zoom controls (+/- and <>). To the right, a legend indicates 'Background map - Google Satellite' and 'Measurement tools'. A coordinate box shows 'TQ200667 520538, 166760' and '0.27589, 51.38719'. At the bottom, a red circle highlights the 'Side by side view' button in the navigation bar, which is connected by a red arrow to a second screenshot below. The second screenshot shows a split-screen view where the left side is a modern map of New Malden and the right side is a historical OS One-Inch map of the same area. Both sides have their own zoom controls. A red circle highlights the zoom control on the right map's side.

You can measure distance and area in Imperial and Metric units. Here I have plotted a route from Waterloo station to London Bridge station via the Oval cricket ground. Three miles. The measure is accurate for under a mile and then counts in miles, or equivalent for kilometers. It might be an ancestor's journey to work or to visit family.

Here I have identified an area and can see its size in square feet. This could be a farm where an ancestor worked, for instance. This map illustrates the blending of layers too.
